Nortrax Expands Morbark Territory into Eastern New York

Winn, Michigan (August 29, 2011) – Morbark has signed an agreement with Nortrax, Inc., a respected Morbark forestry and recycling dealer, to expand its territory to include eastern New York State. The expansion, effective May 2011, added twenty New York counties to an already established Nortrax northeastern territory of Maine, Vermont and New Hampshire.

Nortrax has been a steadfast Morbark dealer for over 20 years. With excellent product support, as well as an extensive equipment and parts inventory, the expansion of the Nortrax-Morbark partnership into eastern New York state will greatly benefit regional Morbark customers. “Nortrax has a well established, excellent reputation in both the forestry and recycling industries. They have developed strong relationships over the past two decades and are known for their ability to supply and meet the most demanding customer requirements,” comments Morbark Northeast Industrial Sales Manager Tom Mitchell.

Bud Iverson, Nortrax Northeast Morbark Manager adds, “We are very proud to have been given the opportunity to add eastern New York state to our area of responsibility. We look forward to meeting and working with new customers in the wood waste reduction and forest products industries, as well as continuing to serve customers we’ve done business with in the past.”
